Nannie Helen Burroughs Day

“Celebrating Her Contributions - Establishing Her Legacy”

Saturday, May 14, 2016 at 2 pm
Dorothy Height Library
East River Park Shopping Center
3935 Benning Road, NE Washington, DC

THE NANNIE HELEN BURROUGHHS PROJECT

Nannie Helen Burroughs teaches our children How to Think, not what to think, as they progress through the home, church and school by:

- Building character and teaching good conduct, especially in public places;
- Fostering respect and equally for women and men of all races;
- Emphasizing the importance of recognizing opportunity, accepting responsibility, and seizing the challenge.

Burroughs with guest speaker Mary McLeod Bethune at the 1909 opening ceremony of the National Training School for Negro Women and Girls in Washington, DC. Photo of friend Booker T. Washington added.

“A Race Rises on its own wings, or is held down by its own weight.”